Frequently Asked Questions

ResMed Astral 150 Repair and Preventive Maintenance

What ResMed Astral 150 problems can Bemes evaluate?

Bemes can evaluate performance faults, alarms, battery or charging concerns, power issues, physical damage, and preventive maintenance needs. The exact repair scope is determined after the ventilator is inspected.

What is included in ResMed Astral 150 repair service?

Service begins with inspection and troubleshooting. Recommended work may include cleaning, replacement of approved service parts, functional testing, calibration where applicable, and completed service documentation.

Will I receive an estimate before the repair begins?

Yes. Bemes provides a fast, free repair estimate after evaluating your ResMed Astral 150. We explain the recommended service and obtain approval before completing billable work.

below or call 866-490-1609 for current service timing.

How is the ResMed Astral 150 tested after service?

Testing may include operational, alarm, delivered-pressure, run-in, power, and battery checks where applicable. The final test plan follows the device condition, approved work, and applicable service requirements.

What should I send with my ResMed Astral 150?

Contact Bemes for shipping instructions and confirmation of which accessories to include. Do not send masks, hoses, water chambers, sensors, or other patient-contact disposables unless specifically requested.

How often does an Astral 150 need preventive maintenance?

ResMed recommends preventive maintenance by a qualified technician every 2 years and pneumatic-block preventive maintenance at 35,000 hours. See the maintenance schedule and service intervals table above for the 6-month maintenance tasks and manufacturer guidance.
